SURPRISE WEDDING

W. W. Fuqua and Miss Lucy Hamby Unite Their Destinies Tuesday Night.

VERY PRIVATE AFFAIR.

Secret Was Carefully Guarded by Both Parties From Closest Friends.

Mr. W. W. Fuqua and Miss Lucy Hamby were married Tuesday night at the home of Mr. Robert Carter, on East Seventeenth street, Rev. George H. Means officiating.

This wedding was a complete surprise to everybody, not one of the groom's friends being let into the secret, and only one of bride's friends being informed as to what was to occur, and that not until late in the afternoon. The only witnesses to the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Carter and their daughter, Miss Besse.

After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Fuqua left for the home of the groom on South Walnut street.

The bride is a niece of Judge Polk Candler, in whose home she passed many years when a young girl. She is a highly intelligent lady, kind-hearted and industrious and will be a fitting helpmate for Mr. Fuqua.

The groom is one of the best known men of the city and county. He is a salesman in the dry goods establishment of C. C. Clegg, where he has been for fifteen or more years. Mr. and Mrs. Fuqua's hosts of friends will join the Kentuckian in wishing for them a life unalloyed of happiness.

SHERIFF'S POSSE IS IN PURSUIT

Of Negro Who Attempted Criminal Assault in Todd Co.

NEAR ELKTON TUESDAY.

Prospect is Good For Lynching If He Can Be Captured.

Elkton, Ky., Jan. 29.—An unsuccessful attempt to criminally assault Mrs. Floyd McElwain, the young wife of a well-known farmer living six miles southwest of this place, was made at noon Tuesday by David Kimbrough, a big negro who has been employed on a neighboring farm. In the struggle with her assailant Mrs. McElwain's face was cut and scratched and great bruises show where the negro's fingers closed about her throat as he attempted to strangle her. She was alone at the time. The young woman fought like a tigress and the negro, evidently fearing that her screams would attract some of the horses, suddenly fled. He had not been captured at last accounts.

He is about six feet tall, light mulatto, scar on one cheek. Had on two overall suits and wore overcoat, color not known; wore high top shoes. No one knows what direction he took when he left the neighborhood. All surrounding town officials were notified by telegraph or phone to be on the look-out for the negro.

No Reason Why the Market Should Open Up Earlier This Year.

No sales of tobacco had been made up to yesterday morning. The Association manager here is ready to show samples and make prices whenever would-be purchasers show up. Mr. Buckner said yesterday that it was a little early for sales to begin yet. The first sale of Association tobacco was made last year on the 17th day of March, though sale was Venerable Minister Succumbs To Feebleness and Injury.

HURT LAST OCTOBER.

Was Rector of Grace Episcopal Church For Twelve Years.

Rev. John W. Venable, the rector of Grace Episcopal church, died yesterday morning at four o'clock, after a long illness.

Last October he sustained a fall from his porch that fractured one hip and he had been in bed ever since, constantly growing weaker.

Dr. Venable was born March 31, 1823, in Washington, D. C., and came to Kentucky in 1842. He entered the ministry of the Episcopal church in 1851 and served churches in Central Kentucky for 30 years. He removed from Versailles to this city in 1883 and was rector of Grace church for 12 years, when he retired from active ministry, at that time more than 70 years old. He was married nineteen years ago to Miss Lizzie Moore, who survives him with one son, John W. Venable, Jr., aged 18. Two daughters by a former marriage also survive him, Mrs. Lizzie Mason, of California, and Mrs. Julia Wylie, of Atlanta, Ga.

Dr. Venable was a life-long member of the Odd Fellows and had been Grand Chaplain since 1868, nearly forty years, although he had been unable to attend for several years. He repeatedly sent in his resignation, but was always re-elected.

He resided in a pretty cottage on South Virginia street and his declining years were spent in comfort and happiness. He was a man of literary tastes and a lover of art, in fact he was a portrait painter prior to entering the ministry.

The funeral services will be held this afternoon from the church and the body will be buried in Riverside Cemetery.

a light one, and there are no logical reasons for sales to be made any earlier this year than last.

The 800 or more types of the weed are ready for inspection and some of them are beauties. With the best arranged quarters the Association has ever had buyers are assured that they can inspect at their leisure without any disturbance whatever and the samples are now ready to be examined.

The recent cold snap have pretty well stopped the delivery of tobacco here, though occasionally some loose crops can be seen coming into the city.

Gen. Johnson's Plan.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 27.—In an interview here today, Adjutant General Johnson says that the only way to prevent the deprivations and night rider raids is for the legislature to pass a law transferring the trial of cases to distant counties and to let the Governor appoint the court officers.

He says that local influences are too strong to ever secure convictions where the raids occur.

MODERN WORK WILL NOT LAST.

Newspapers and Books Printed To-Day Have Short Lives.

"The man who writes history on tablets of stone in ages gone had a difficult task to perform, and had to cultivate the habit of brevity," says a writer in a German paper, "but what they wrote was preserved. It will be different with the newspapers and books of the present time. The paper which is now printed will not integrate in a few years, and the records, historical, scientific and literary, will become dust. I saw two papers last week which told the whole story. One contained an account of the death of Napoleon Bonaparte. It was printed in 1821, was in perfect preservation, and looked as though it might have been ordinary copy a hundred years. The other paper was kept because its leading article described the surrender of Sedan, which had taken place a day before. Although it had been printed nearly 50 years later, the paper had to be handled carefully to prevent it from becoming a crease. One of these papers was printed on old-fashioned paper, and the other on the modern kind. With the two specimens before me I cannot refrain from urging once more that a few numbers of all books and newspapers, enough for all first-class libraries, be printed on good paper for the benefit of those who will live after us."

SOME ERRORS OF THE TYPES.

Really Amusing Blunders of Which Record Has Kept.

An author who has a scrapbook devoted to typographical errors was showing the book to a friend. One item concerned a dance. The word "bonnier" was misspelled, with this deplorable result: "There was no bonier ladies present than the mayor's own daughters, and this fact was further emphasized by the perfect fit of the shepherdess costumes they wore. The girls were dressed in such a way that a cow got in front of a train, said: 'As the safest course, under the circumstances, the engineer put on full steam, dashed into the cow and literally cut it into two halves.' A New York society editor, misprinting the word "chill," published this statement: 'Mrs. Astor was unavoidably absent from the reception, being kept at home by a bad child.'

One by Gen. Mills.

Gen. Mills used to tell of a surgeon at a certain post during the civil war who was chaffed a great deal for his florid and extravagant style of expression, both written and oral. On one occasion it appears that the colonel of the regiment had appropriated the surgeon's coat for a model without the usual formality of stating his intentions. Whereupon the surgeon sent a complaint to the officer in command. Among other things he said: "I have not so much as a fly to interpose between my head and the star-decked heavens above me." The colonel dolefully admitted his regular routine, and eventually returned to the unfortunate surgeon with the following endorsement: "Col. Brown will cause a fly to be interposed between the head of the complainant and the star-decked heavens above him as soon as possible"—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

Changing a Business Emblem.

In a Brooklyn suburb a banker rented a shop to a jeweler, and was informed by the proprietor of the mortuary business was a weather-beaten wooden representation of a monument, with base, pedestal, shaft and capstone of pine, which stood in front of his shop window. The barber removed the head and lettered the name with his name and "mortuary list," painted sanitary red crosses on the faces of the pedestal, put spiral stripes of red and white around the shaft, and painted the cap pea green. Then he was ready for business.

"What is History?"

What is history but the more or less superficial opinions of certain men with respect to the movement and course of events of which we may have knowledge or desire to know? There is a wide-spread opinion that history is something apart, something that gets itself done whether or no, and windy orators have been known to appeal to its judgment. But it will have to be written by men who have been trained to interpret it impartially.—Uncle Remus Magazine.

He Knew the Formula.

A Brooklyn teacher relates how her mother used to come to a neighborhood parlor some idea of beauty in the abstract and its effect upon the cultivated individual. "Now, William," said the teacher, "we will suppose that your mother should place a vase of beautiful flowers in the center of the dining table. What would your worthy father say as he sat down to eat?" "What are those weeds doing there?" said the boy, promptly.—Harper's Bazaar.

She Knew the Formula.

Edith, my mother's little girl, was somewhat accustomed to interviews with the usual question, "What's your name, little girl?" The little girl, without looking up from her sand-pile, replied: "My name is Edith, and I'm four. She's my little sister; I don't want to go with you and you know my little girl, and I know you can't steal my little sister!"—Harper's Bazaar.

TO WEAR WHEN VISITING.

Effective Costume in the Latest Caprice of Fashion.

Face cloth in a pretty shade of fawn is employed for this dress. The skirt has a plain front and reaches the back and sides in a few added pieces at the back, which is trimmed with embroidered galloon.

The blouse jacket is edged with galloon of a wider width, and is strapped with the cloots at each edge; the shoulders are cut with rounded epau-lettes which fall over the puffed sleeves; they are edged with galloon and straps of the cloth. The vest and under-sleeves are of tucked spandrel.

Cameflower blue crinoline hat, trimmed with roses of spotted tulle and two shaded ostrich feathers.

Materials required: Seven yards 48 inches wide, five yards skirt lining, three yards silk for lining blouse jacket, and galloon according to width.

FOR THE CHANGEABLE SILKS.

Make Good Foundation Covered with Shimmering Material.

Where to place the changeable silk looked like a problem, until it was discovered that it gave a beautiful effect as a foundation when covered with some shimmering white material. It has a beautifying effect with white which makes the outer garment richer in appearance. A good changeable silk which is splendid for foundation is the one composed of a combination of gray and pink. The gray must be white, which reflects in pink tones, steel blue and pink is pretty, while Copenhagen blue and silver is extremely handsome. Only very light tints should be worn with white, though ruby and plumb is a lovely shade to wear under a black net dress. The changeable silk is a rich color for the foundation to the garment, and when the outer garment is rightly ornamented with wide lace insertion and large medallions on the blouse, the openwork is picturesque in shadowing the uncertain yellow tinge beneath.

Muffs.

Mink muffs are flat and long and are formed by sewing the little bodies of the animals side by side. Sometimes a row of tails fringes the lower edge. Others are decorated with heads on the tails, and some have the heads on the mink will be about $10 and beauties in dyed squirrel, Japanese mink and mink make are six dollars each. Persian lamb in the same style will cost $15.

The smartest thing in long coats is a 44-inch black pony skin, with collar of black lynx or Persian lamb.

Winter Colors.

All the new colors for winter have been stolen from flower and fruit. Gowns are now made of yellow or purple, but of "bloom of apricots" or gaffodil materials.

Our blouses may be fashioned of bat's wing chiffon, or have wreathed tulle.

A toilet is arranged to represent autumn in shades of copper, flame and dead orange.

A sunshine robe in a cloth of gold velled in turquois gauze, and a storm gown is an shades of gray chiffon.

Headgears.

Ostrich and aligrettes are still the best trimming for fine millinery. However, now used are either all silk or a combination of the two; but few fawn feathers have been used. They may come to the market as the season advances.

The crase for purple shades, which started very early, has not held out, with the exception of certain shades used in trimming.

New Quilt for Baby.

Instead of throwing away your old worn-out quilts cut away the worst parts until you have a piece about a yard square, make a slip of some pretty colored silk, put your piece quilt into this and sew it here and there with yarn. You will have a new quilt for baby at little cost.

extracting and preserving the active native roots.

No Alcohol Used. Dr. Pierces' new discovery is that it is necessary to use alcohol in the preparation of either his "Favorable Prescription" for weak women, or his "Golden Medical Discovery," the well-known alternative remedy for induration of the liver, bad kidneys and kindred diseases. Over forty years of research and experiment, he found glycerine is a far better solvent for most of the active principles residing in a plant, and it is more easily absorbed at a proper and sustained temperature than in alcohol; and, furthermore, he found that a sliver against Dr. Pierces' was a sliver against the intelligence of thousands of clear-thinking American women who have used his "Favorable Prescription." It is not a "patent medicine" in any sense, but is a "remedy" in the true sense which Dr. Pierces used in an extended practice for the treatment of the diseases peculiar to women.

Numerous Measures of Interest to Fourth Class Cities.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 27.—Bills of many kinds have been introduced in the two Houses, the total number being now 341, with another bill to come in the House on Monday. In the House there have been 209 bills offered thus far and in the Senate 132. These bills cover a wide range, but the bill which is most to be reckoned with is the one to repeal the dog tax law. Seven bills providing for the repeal of this law have been introduced in the House and three in the Senate. One bill relating to the dog tax provides that the money collected from this source shall be devoted to road construction. There have been so many dog laws that it has been suggested that a special committee be called in each house.

Bills regulating the liquor business have not been so numerous, but some of them are drastic. Two provide for State prohibition, after a submission to the people of the question. Two provide for extension of the county unit law so as to make it apply to every county in the State. Another provides that no liquor shall be sold in any place where another kind of business is conducted.

This would stop drug stores from selling liquors and would also close up the corner groceries and saloons. Then there is a bill increasing the licenses of saloons and making the minimum $500. Another bill, of the same character, places the minimum at $150. All sorts of railroad bills, making the railroads liable for various acts, have been offered, and among the number is the two-cent law.

Would Stop Sunday Ball.

Special bills which are aimed at some special thing and are out of the ordinary runs also are to be found on the calendar. The Rev. G. B. Waggoner has a bill which prohibits the playing of baseball or football on Sunday and provides a fine for violation. The bill is to stop Sunday ball in the cities where it is now permitted.

Another bill prohibits the use of Paris green on tobacco.

"Windy Bill" Thompson has his automobile bill. This was not presented as it was intended to present it to Mr. Thompson found that he might have the act declared unconstitutional if he made it as stringent as in moving a corn crib. A long prize pole resting on a block of wood as a fulcrum had been placed under the crib preparatory to putting rollers under the building. While other prize poles were being placed young Forrest was swinging on the one already ready placed, when the pole turned, throwing Forrest and falling on him, crushing his skull and breaking his neck.

Killed at Play.

Murray, Ky., Jan. 24.—John Forrest, a young man of Cherry, this county, was killed while assisting in moving a corn crib. A long prize pole resting on a block of wood as a fulcrum had been placed under the crib preparatory to putting rollers under the building. While other prize poles were being placed young Forrest was swinging on the one already ready placed, when the pole turned, throwing Forrest and falling on him, crushing his skull and breaking his neck.

Ask Buyer to Return.

Springfield, Ky., Jan. 24.—A petition signed by about 500 business men and citizens out in the county requesting H. M. Moss, the representative of the American Tobacco Company, to reopen their warehouse at Springfield has been forwarded to Mr. Moss at Lebanon, where he is now buying tobacco. Most of the tobacco, Mr. Moss buys comes through Springfield from out in the country, and it is working a hardship on the farmers to haul their tobacco so far, to say nothing of the business interests of Springfield. It is the consensus of opinion that Mr. Moss would not be disturbed should he resume operation here.

Mrs. W. C. Davis, 829 West Seventh Street, Hopkinsville, Ky., says:

"Mr. Davis has never had an occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills or any other kidney medicine since he recommended them in the summer of 1903. For years prior to that time he had been an almost constant suffer from kidney trouble. He had intense pain in his back which extended to his shoulders and annoyed him all day. They prevented him from sleeping during the night. The relief he obtained from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills which he got at L. A. Johnson & Co.'s drug store was surprising. They acted differ-ently from any remedy he ever tried and he has never had a recurrence of the trouble since using this valuable remedy four years ago. It speaks pretty strongly for Doan's Kidney Pills, I think."

Wanted Plain Food.
Richard Mansfield has long chafed at a plan of establishing a chain of English inns throughout this country, with plain furnishings and good plain food.

Mr. Farmer:
Are you satisfied
where you are?
Wouldn't you consider a change for the better?

There is wealth and independence for you along the Cotton Belt Route in Arkansas and Texas—

Why?

Because the soil is rich.
It is not worked out. It can be bought now for from $5 to $25 an acre—about one-fourth of its value.

The climate is mild and healthful. You can work out doors the year around. There are good schools and churches. Livestock has good range nearly all the year round. No cold barns are needed for winter housing. There is a long growing season; this means higher and more profitable crops.

You can raise and market one crop nearly every month in the year.
There are good markets nearby. There is an abundant supply of good water. The rainfall is plentiful and evenly distributed.

Think what you're offered!

Low land values—
Good water—
Two crops a year—
Convenient markets—Grazing for stock the year around—

Can you afford to stay where you are?

Just consider whether it's better to take a chance on the territory now offers, or continue where you are, struggling along under adverse conditions, wasting your time and energy trying to make a high-priced farm which is "all worked out" pay.

Don't delay! Go Southwest!
You won't make a mistake. Twice a month, Homestead tickets are sold by the Cotton Belt at very low rates. Make a trip of investigation—it will be the best thing you ever did.

HOPKINSVILLE KENTUCKIAN JAN. 30, 1908.

CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE

Primary Will be Held to Nominate Candidate
For Congress.

7 MEMBERS PRESENT.

May 9th Decided as Day
When Candidate Will be Selected.

The Call.

At a meeting of the Democratic District Committee for the Second Congressional District of Kentucky, held pursuant to a call of the Hon.
R. B. Bradley, chairman of said committee, in the city of Madisonville, Ky., January 23, 1908, the following call was issued:

"I have been somewhat captive, but Doan's Regulates gave just the results desired. They act mildly and regulate the bowels perfectly," George B. Krause, 306 Walnut Ave., Altoona, Pa.

Industrial Progress, Surely.
The fact that a man to-day can sit on a bench in a factory, or on the Thames embankment, or at a table under the trees at the edge of the Thielerberg and dine on fresh salmon brought from the waters of California, Oregon and Alaska, shows graphically how industrial efficiency has been given to modern trade.

How is Your Digestion.

Mrs. Mary Downing of No. 228 8th Ave., San Francisco, recommends a remedy for stomach trouble. She says:
"Gratitude for the wonderful effect of Electric Bitters in a case of acute indigestion, prompts this testimonial. I am fully convinced that for stomach and liver troubles Electric Bitters is the best remedy on the market to-day." This great tonic and alterative medicine invigorates the system, purifies the blood and is especially helpful in all forms of female trouble. 50c. at R. C. Hard-wick's drug store.

Tibet Waking Up.
Tschang Ying Tang, the highest Chinese official in Tibet, has started a school for Chinese and Tibetan boys at Lhasa, where they are to be educated for official positions in Tibet.
He has also started the first paper at Lhasa.

Milk And Salt For Skin

A treatment which is simple and beneficial to the good appearance of the skin is the milk and salt treatment. Wash the face at night just before going to bed with hot water and salt, using the salt as you would soap. Do not use the water so hot as to make the face tender or dry.
Then rinse in cold water. Apply a solution made of one teaspoonful of salt to two tablespoonsfuls of milk as a cold cream or skin food. After a few applications the face will be as smooth as ivory and will be a delight to the touch.

The right to vote at said election shall be limited and restricted to those who affiliate in good faith with the Democratic party and further pledge their support to the nominee of said election, and possess the qualifications prescribed by statute, provided, however, that persons under the age of twenty-one years on the date of said election, but who will have reached said age by the date of the November election, 1908, and who wish to affiliate with the Democratic party and will pledge themselves to support the nominee of said primary election, shall be entitled to vote.

Should there be but one candidate to comply with the requirements of this call, there shall be no primary election held, but the District Committee shall meet upon call of the chairman on April 27, 1908, at 2 o'clock p. m., at Henderson, Ky., and declare the persons complying with the requirements of this call the nominee of the Democratic party for congress in the Second Congressional District of Kentucky, and the chairman of said committee shall return to him his entrance fee.

The candidate receiving the largest number of legal and qualified votes at said election shall be declared the nominee of the Democratic party of the Second district for representative in congress.

The District Committee will meet in the city of Henderson, Ky., at 2 o'clock p. m., on Friday, the 15th day of January, 1908, for the purpose of canvassing returns and issuing certificates of nomination.

In testimony whereof witness our hands this 23d day of January, 1908.

R. B. BRADLEY, Chairman
SPALDING TRAFOM, Sec.

Tobacco Resolution Fight.

Party lines may not be drawn in the fight over the adoption of the resolution calling for an investigation of the tobacco troubles in Kentucky, when the report of the committee is considered. The resolution has been made a special order for Tuesday morning and will be fought out then. The minority members of the committee, who are all Republicans, have made a minority report, which is against the investigation. It is probable that the vote will not be strictly according to party affiliation and there may be some Republicans for it and some Democrats against it.

The minority claims that there is no need for the investigation as the troubles in the tobacco sections are being investigated by several different courts, by the State and by the Federal Government, and that no further investigation would be of any advantage. The following is the report of the minority members of the committee giving the reasons for opposing the passage of the resolution:

"Leaving out of view the general and vague purposes of the committee, as expressed in the resolution, we are of the opinion that no substantial advantage can be expected to follow from the proposed investigation, for the following reasons:

"First—Because we have already upon the statute books of the State a very full and carefully-drawn statute aimed at combinations of persons and corporations whose object is either to raise or depress the prices of the various commodities of commerce, and whose constitutionality has been passed upon by the courts, and which has already been successfully invoked by the officials of the State to punish violators of its provisions, and, in our opinion, no broader constitutional statute can be effective.

"Second—In our judgment it would be extremely unwise for the State to embark in the business of manufacturing tobacco, even if it be conceded (which we do not permit ourselves to think) we have the constitutional power to engage in such enterprise.

"Third—We are advised that proceedings have been instituted in both the Federal and State courts to punish the alleged violations by the so-called Tobacco Trust, under both the State and Federal statutes on this subject, and the litigation in the Federal Court looks to a dissolution of the American Tobacco Company as a corporate entity.

In our opinion the proposed investigation, so far as the ascertainment of facts are concerned, would be entirely barren of results, as they are familiar to every Senator and can easily be ascertained at smaller expense. In lieu of such resolution we respectfully suggest to the Senate that they resolve to take the tobacco off the market, so that growers can manufacture it themselves.

REV. TROUTMAN SENDS BEST WISHES FOR PE-RU-NA

Rev. George A. E. Troutman, Mt. Washington, Mo., Writes,

"My Wife and I Are Strong Believers in Pe-ru-na."

Catarrh and La Grippe.
Rev. Geo. A. E. Troutman, Mt. Washington, Mo., writes: "My wife and I are strong believers in Peruna."

REV. GEORGE A. E. TROUTMAN with a peculiar spasmodic affection of the throat. It would seize me suddenly and for a few minutes I would be unable to speak audibly, and my breath would be greatly interfered with. I would be obliged to gasp for breath. I finally concluded that it was some catarrh or grippe, which probably excited the spasms. It interested me with my wife as a preacher, attacking me occasionally in the pulpit.

"I had heard so much about Peruna as a catarrh remedy that I determined to try it. After taking two bottles, my trouble has disappeared. I feel sure that it is a great blessing to me."

Rev. P. E. Swanson, Swedish Baptist Pastor, Box 228, Greenbush, Wis., writes that from the use of Peruna he is perfectly well, entirely cured of chronic diarrhea and catarrh.

Peruna in Tablet Form.

For two years Dr. Hartman and his assistants have incessantly labored to create Peruna in tablet form, and their strenuous labors have just been crowned with success. People who object to liquid medicines can now secure Peruna Tablets, which represent the medicinal ingredients of Peruna. Each tablet is equivalent to one average dose of Peruna.

SOLD IN SON'S NAME.

Offense For Which Night Riders Whipped Pres Rogers.

The facts in regard to the sale of the tobacco crop of Presley B. Rogers outside of the association have become known. Rogers was a member of the association, but his son, Clarence Rogers, and a tenant on a part of his farm were not members. Young Rogers and the tenant sold their crops, estimated at 6,000 pounds, more or less, to a buyer in this city, whose established policy was not to buy association tobacco, except through the authorized officials. The price paid in this instance was $3.00 or $3.25 and when the tobacco was delivered the individual crop of the elder Rogers was sold under his son's contract. The buyer had no knowledge of what was done. He received about 8,000 or 9,000 pounds and settled for all of it with the men who delivered it.

The transaction occurred several weeks ago. When the mob waited upon Rogers the night of Jan. 25, he was struck nine times with a buggy whip by one man and then another struck him several times. Mr. Rogers was in town yesterday.

Married a Man With an Income of Only $60,000 a Year.

The "house" in New York in which Gladys Vanderbilt was married last Monday to a Hungarian Count has an iron fence around it fully ten feet high, and is said to be the finest private residence inside of the world. The Count has an income of $60,000 a year and his bride inherited from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000. Between the two they ought to be able to keep the wolf from the door.

PLAIN CASE OF INCENDIARISM

J. Fay Brown's Grocery Burned By an Unknown Firebug.

NOTE SIGNED "N. R."

No Evidence that the Store Was Burned By a Body of Men.

The grocery store of J. F. Brown, on the Fairview pike, six miles east of town, was burned presumably by an incendiary, about midnight Monday night.

In his mail box he found a note signed "N. R." telling him that unless he quit talking so much his dwelling would be burned, too.

The store was in flames when Mr. Brown was aroused and he hastily dressed and fired off his gun to attract assistance from his neighbors. Some of them responded and aided him in saving the dwelling house, which was for a while in danger, as it was near the store.

A stock of coal oil in the store added fuel to the flames when the tank exploded.

Mr. Brown had received other threatening notes claiming to be from night riders. There is no evidence that a body of men was under the place and it is not known whether the store was burned by night riders or by some enemy who acted on his own responsibility.

The loss was about $700 on the building and $1,100 on the stock, the losses being partially insured.

Ceremony Performed in The Presence of About 350 Guests.

New York, Jan. 27.—The wedding of Miss Gladys Moore Vanderbilt, daughter of Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, to Count Lazzio Szchenyi, member of the Hungarian nobility, lieutenant of hussars and hereditary member of the Austro-Hungarian Parliament, took place at the Fifth-avenue home of the bride's mother soon after noon today. The ceremony was performed in the presence of about 350 guests in the salon on the Fifth-avenue side of the Vanderbilt residence. At one end of the long room an altar was placed under a bower of bending palm trees, the tops of which came together, forming an arch, under which the bridal party proceeded to the altar. About the trunks of the palms were twined thousands of orchids.

Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, who was married to Count something or other, of Hungary, is worth $15,000,000 in her own name, but she contracted with Count Pibox to pay him as pin money the income from $1,000,000.

The Franklin county grand jury returned an indictment against the International Harvester company of Milwaukee, charging that the said company had combined with the McCormick, Champion, Deering and Osborne companies to regulate and control the prices on binders, mowers, reapers and other harvesting machinery. The fine for such offense under the Kentucky anti-trust statute is from one to five thousand dollars for each offense.

The Newman resolution to appoint a committee of three Senators and four Representatives to investigate the tobacco situation and appropriate $10,000 for expense money, was indefinitely postponed in the Senate Tuesday, after a spirited discussion, by a vote of 22 to 15. Senator Newman made a bitter attack on Gov. Wilson, saying that lawlessness was increasing under his administration. Senator Rivers was one of those who opposed the resolution, saying he could see no good that could result from the proposed investigation.

Investigations into the workings of the American Tobacco Company, in the attempt to prove it a monopoly in restraint of trade and to prevent it from doing an interstate business under the Sherman anti-trust law, was confined in the Federal court in Louisville Tuesday. The investigation is being made by the Department of Justice of the United States Government, and is being conducted by J. C. McReynolds, special attorney of the Attorney General of the United States. Attorney McReynolds began the taking of testimony in New York last summer, and he expects to get the case into the court by April or May. Several witnesses were examined and the investigation will be resumed in Nashville to day.

Mr. Latham's Loss.

The heaviest loser by the raid on Hopkinsville Dec. 7 was Mr. John C. Latham, of New York, who owned the Latham warehouse, the first building destroyed by the night riders. Mr. Latham's loss was probably $20,000 or $25,000, and the loss falls upon a man who has for thirty years been the greatest benefactor and philanthropist the people of Hopkinsville have had to call upon in their needs. No call upon him has ever passed unheeded. Twenty or more years ago when the first union turnpikes were built in the county, Mr. Latham invested $50,000 to build the turnpike made free in 1901. The people of several sections of Christian county are now reaping the benefits of his liberality and progressive ideas in the development of his native county.

In 1886 it was his generosity that gathered together the bones of 101 Confederate soldiers who died in this city during the war and erected over their common grave a monument to their valor, at a cost of more than $20,000. In every railroad enterprise, every public-spirited movement, on every subscription to aid a public building, his name has always been on the list, usually the head.

When the city was in dire need of a first-class hotel, he came forward with a proposition to subscribe as much as the whole city would contribute, and the result was the elegant Hotel Latham, that cost more than $100,000. He gave largely to Baptist church of which his father was a member, and has always been a heavy contributor to the Episcopal church, the church of his mother.

There is scarcely a church in this city, white or colored, that he has not given to when called upon. His smaller benefactions have been almost countless. Hundreds of people of Hopkinsville have been made happy by his assistance in one way or another. Some years ago he constructed in Riverside cemetery a splendid mausoleum for the Latham family, which is one of the chief attractions of our beautiful city of the dead. Only last year on the old homestead, just across the street from where the raiders destroyed his property, he spent $10,000 in improving and adorning the house where his childhood was spent. That the wrath of the night riders should have fallen so heavily upon Mr. Latham, sick as he was a thousand miles away, in no way to blame for the tobacco troubles of Kentucky, is one of the keenest regrets of the people of Hopkinsville. It is said that Mr. Latham feels deeply the blow, and will not rebuild the warehouse destroyed.

What's in McClure's?

For variety of interest that February McClure's is in the lead. Miss Milmine resumes her "Life of Mrs. Eddy," giving the history of the Schism in the early church. Prof. William James of Harvard sounds a battle-cry to the colleges in his article, "The Social Value of the College-Bred;" George Kibbe Turner's article, "The Men Who Learned to Fly," describes the experiments of inventors who had made better wings than a bird's and are offering for sale an aerial war ship; William F. Hornaday, director of the New York Zoological Gardens, courageously enters the arena with an article on "The Psychology of Wild Animals;" Ellen Terry continues the absorbing story of her interesting life. To all these good things is added the spice and flavor of fiction.

GOOD SUBSTITUTE FOR MILK. Vegetable That is Appreciated by the Natives of China.

A vegetable substitute for milk, used largely in China, is made there from the seeds of the soja hispida, or oily Chinese bean (soy-bean), we are told by Francis Marr in La Nature (Paris, Jan. 8). He says:

"To obtain the seeds are first boiled, then pressed, making a sort of puree which, when dissolved in water, makes a very nourishing vegetable milk. When treated with a mineral salt . . . it coagulates and may be made into a kind of cheese (tofu) which plays an important part in the dietary of the Chinese and Japanese. The cheese is very fresh . . . It may be cooked and preserved by salting or smoking. In commerce three principal varieties of vegetable cheese are found; one, which is fermented, is white, yellow or gray, and has a piquant taste like that of Roquefort; the second is salty and white, resembling goat's milk cheese, which is very popular and the Chinese . . . * * * Soy-cheese is so cheap that enough to serve a man for a day costs less than a centime (one-fifth of a cent), or 50 or 60 times less than an equal quantity of animal cheese."

"As for the food value of soy-milk, it is sensibly equal to that of cow's milk; it contains immense quantities of lecithin, whose chemical composition is very close to that of casein. Mr. Li Yu Ying, an attaché of the Chinese legation at Paris, in endeavoring to introduce the culture of soy into France."—Literary Digest.

MONUMENT TO ITS EMPLOYEE.

Manufacturing Company Appreciative of Long Service.

Recently the Chicopee Manufacturing Company erected a monument over the grave of Mr. Michael Houlihan, who died last April, after having been an employee of the company for 52 years without interruption. The company was on the point of retiring and pensioning Mr. Houlihan at the time of his death, which came very suddenly, after a short illness with pneumonia. The monument is merely placed over his grave as a token of the appreciation of the company for his service, for he was one of the most faithful men the company ever had in its employ. The monument is of granite, set on a base of the same stone, and carries the following inscription:

"David Michael Houlihan, born 1834, died 1897. Erected by the Chicopee Mfg. Co. in grateful recognition of over 52 years of service."

The action of the company for whom he worked so faithfully for so many years is especially graceful and indicative of their appreciation of an employee who does his duty. Such thoughtfulness does much to make the relations of the employer and employee closer and friendlier, as they should be.—Springfield Republican.

Waste of Artesian Water.

Millions of gallons of artesian water are going to waste every day in this country. Over 100 million gallons a day are wasted in a single county. The amount of water thus drawn from the underground reservoirs and utilized in Madison county alone is sufficient to supply a city of 10,000 inhabitants. In only a few places is this water put to use. The farmers do not seem to realize that a hydraulic ram or a simple hand pump will raise a large portion of the water to their houses on the hills above. Immense volumes of good water are therefore suffered to waste and in this way the "head" or height of water in the wells, or the height to which it rises above the surface has been lowered several feet. Many wells that once yielded copious supplies of water have lost their head to such an extent that they now empty. By this means, also, the ground-water level in this region in ten years has been lowered over ten feet.

I know a "Pathological Writer." A New York woman, not being content with the reputation she enjoys of being one of the most beautiful women in her state, has literary aspirations.

Recently she was a guest at luncheon when the conversation drifted to books and plays. Her social discussions followed. The beauty took part and expressed herself freely.

But when she asked her listeners whether they considered her a "psychological and pathological writer," she handed out a stumper.

A graveyard silence reigned until one girl, who was bolder than the rest, asked what pathological meant.

Here is where the beauty lost literary ground.

"I looked it up a few days ago," she replied, "but cannot remember just now what it means."

Hardening by Sulphuric Process.

Hardening an ordinary drill in sulphuric acid makes an edge that will cut tempered steel or facilitate cutting hard rocks, says Compressed Air. The acid should be poured into a flat-bottomed vessel to about one-half inch. The point of the drill is heated to a dull cherry red, then placed in the acid to a depth of three inches. This makes the point extremely hard, while the rest remains soft, and hence tough. If the point breaks it may be rehardened with a little less acid in the vessel.

Wilhelm Reduces Speed.
The German emperor has issued orders that all of the numerous imported automobiles are to be driven slower hereafter than has been the case in the past. This action is said to be due to the large number of accidents caused by speeding automobiles.

Valuable Cocoon Plantations.
The value of cocoon estates in the Federated Malay States is returned by L. C. Brown, the official in charge of the plantations, as about $20,000,000 (Malaysian dollar—56.7 cents), Perak holding pride of place in the published statistics.

Ann and Ann Street.
Who was Ann after whom Ann street in Manhattan is named? The records apparently leave the matter in mystery, except to tell that she was the wife of the first man who owned and occupied its site.

Local Leaflets

We will not have another Tabermacle entertainment until March 17.

Pneumonia is having quite a run in the city at this time, but there have been but few fatal cases.

Tomorrow will be the last day of the first month of the new year.
From now on it will be known only as 1908—just like any other old year.

If you don't think Hopkinsville liquor men are doing a big business in Clarksville, just count the jugs that the express companies ship almost daily.

Several months since the postoffice department wrote here for information as to the price of an available lot for a public building—that's all and the people don't seem to care if it is.

Wheat is reported to be looking finely, though there has been no snow to help it out this winter. It is also said that the rust and the fly may damage the crop considerably because of no snow.

More balloons were seen floating through the firmament Monday night. Some think it meant "business," while others say they were nothing more than movable stars, but very large ones.

The town clock got out of order Monday night and the light in the tower refused to shine. The clock was put in order Tuesday. This is the first time that anything of the sort has happened for some time.

St. Valentine's Day is coming on space and merchants are beginning to display their stocks of comics and other goods for the day, but the postoffice clerks would prefer that St. Valentine's day should come no sooner than leap year.

Yesterday was "Carnation Day." The day was observed by admirers of the late William McKinley by wearing a carnation, which was the favorite flower of Mr. McKinley.
The custom has been observed since January 29th, 1903, when the Carnation League of America was organized.

The groundhog is beginning to wake up, the sparrows are making their nests, the buds on the trees had swollen considerably before the last cold snap, but you haven't seen the boys playing marbles yet, or spinning tops. So don't think for a moment that spring will come early this year.

The chances are that the present Kentucky Legislature will enact a law giving women the right to vote for school trustees—that is, if the Senate deadlock does not prevent action on the bill. How many women are there in this county who would walk up to the polls and vote "like men" is an unanswerable question.

Never has the superiority of the concrete sidewalk over the ancient and effete brick concern been more thoroughly demonstrated than during the late freezes, thaws and snows.

You see very little mud on the concrete walk, while the brick walls are covered with mud which has been accumulating for three or four months.

Won't somebody rent the lower floor of the incompletely Y. M. C. A. building, put down a floor and open up a business of some kind? It is on a good street and the rental would be a nice nucleus of a fund for completing the building some of these years. A chance for raising funds otherwise will not materialize very soon, it seems.

Farmers, it is said, want a change made in the game laws of Kentucky.
They complain that the time for killing quail gives the town hunters all the advantage, as the farmers are too busy to go hunting during the open season, and the town folks get all the birds. How about the large number of fellows in town who never hunt at all and have no birds on their tables because they are not allowed to buy them and the hunter is not permitted to give them any birds?

STILL ANOTHER

Cold Wave Put in Its Appearance Here.

Much to the surprise of most people another cold wave stirs this section Tuesday night about nine o'clock. The cold wave was preceded by high wind and the temperature continued to fall until nine o'clock

Wednesday morning, the day being one of the coldest of the winter.

A slight skin of ice was on small ponds but the sun shone bright during the entire day and hopes of an ice spell were dissipated by noon.

SEE "THE CLANSMAN."

Greatest Historical Dramas For Farewell Engagement.

If you are a lover of good plays, do not fail to see "The Clansman" on its return for a farewell engagement at the Vendome Theatre, Nashville, Tenn., Friday and Saturday, Feb. 7 and 8, and Saturday matinee.
Of all the man offerings at this theatre, this is undoubtedly the greatest and grandest of the whole season. Gov. Robert B. Glenn, of North Carolina, advised every man and woman, especially those of the Southern people and public opinion say the same. Crowded audiences and enormous enthusiasm mark the progress of "The Clansman" everywhere.

Until this play was written, many persons supposed that the South had no answer to make to the innumerable libels and calumnies heaped upon her by Northern writers. But "The Clansman" set in fierce white light the exact truth about the doings of the Ku Klux Klan and the Reconstruction struggle of forty years ago. It opened the eyes of both the South and the North. It showed that what the Southern people really did was to save white civilization from barbarism and anarchy; that the South would have been well met in negro mongrelism but for the heroic work of the Ku Klux Klan. Aside from its political features "The Clansman" is a most beautiful and thrilling drama. The play is enjoyed it as much or even more than men, because of the engrossing love story. The hero of the play is a South Carolinian and a Ku Klux Klan leader. He falls in love with the pretty daughter of a Northern fanatic who has come South to organize the negroes against their white superiors. Ben Cameron courts the daughter and firmly opposes every move of the deluded and miserable father. In the end he wins the girl's hand and saves both from the clutches of the negro Lieutenant-Governor of the State. Under Ben's leadership the Ku Klux drive the carpetbaggers and bad negroes out of the State and restore the old regime.

Thrills, tears and laughter are wonderfully mingled in this play.
The dark comedy is rich, and the loves of Uncle Hesse and Aunt Eve and the thieving propensities and guiltiness of Aleck, the negro High Sheriff of the county, convulses the audience.

A word should be said about the appearance of the Ku Klux in this play. Every detail is historically accurate. The ghostly costumes, weird ritual and white-robed steeds of the order are reproduced exactly as they were in the year 1867. The Ku Klux cavalry dash across the stage with startling realism. The High Court of the Klan sentence a self-confessed criminal to death.

Those who attend the play next week will see the original company of forty people direct from New York City, and a splendid new production with magnificent scenery, costumes and electrical effects. Patrons are advised to send in their orders for seats, accompanied by remittance, to Manager W. A. Sheetz, Vendome Theatre, Nashville, Tenn., and tickets of the kind desired will be promptly forwarded. The price of seats range from 50 cents to $1.00 at the evening performances, and 50, 75 and $1.00 at the matinee.

THIEF WAS COLD

And Stole Bed Clothing from Mrs. Gus Boales.

Mrs. Gus Boales, 128 East Sixteenth street, left one of the doors of her house open Tuesday night and a thief entered the room and stole a blanket and two or three quilts. After opening a trunk and scattering the contents over the floor the thief departed. Mrs.
Boales is of the opinion that the thief took nothing but the articles mentioned.

Something of the character of the play, "A Messenger Boy," which is the bill at the opera house tonight, may be judged from the following letter of endorsement given to Manager Sweet by Rev. W. Parry-Thomas, Rector of Holy Trinity Church at Luverne, Minn.

"It was my good fortune to witness the excellent play you gave us, 'A Messenger Boy.' You and your supporters deserve all the hearty applause you received. The play is good, clean and moral, and deserves the support of the public."

All Next Week.

The Hill Stock Company will hold the boards at the opera house all next week. Ladies free, on the usual conditions. Monday night.
